Regulations Regarding Reproductions

1. Reproduction requests are required for all reproduction of Special Collections & Archives materials, in any format and in any media, used by any entity other than the Library. Reproduction services does not include Special Collections & Archive employee research services or use licensing.
2. The Library's reproduction of materials does not constitute or include: the rights to publish, reproduce, transfer, create derivative works, distribute, perform, publicly display, exhibit, or offer for sale any material, or a portion thereof, subject to copyright in excess of fair use, as defined by copyright law, without the express permission of the copyright holder. The requestor is solely responsible for determining the copyright status. DSU is not liable for a requestor's use of materials in excess of copyright law.

3. The Library's provision of a reproduction does not constitute permission of the copyright holder and is not a substitute for the requestor's diligent compliance with all applicable copyright requirements.
4. Personal cameras with no flash may be used with no fee by researchers for personal or research purposes, in compliance with fair use.
5. All photocopying, scanning, and digitization may only be done by Special Collections & Archives staff. All reproduction services require a reproduction fee.
6. All digital reproductions will be delivered electronically. All photocopies must be picked up in person.
7. A requestor must abide by Special Collections & Archives Reproduction & Use Licensing Policy and pay all fees.
8. Reproduction fees are independent of one-time use licensing fees. Reproduction and use licensing fees may be applied to the same material and recur with each use and request.
9. Rush orders are not accepted. All reproduction and use license requests will be processed as they are received, and will be completed at staff's availability.
10. All reproduced materials must be cited and attributed to DSU Special Collections & Archives and should include the material description or item number as available.

I have read the above "Regulations Regarding Reproduction" policy governing the use of Special Collections & Archives at Dixie State University. I understand the regulations and agree to comply with them. I further understand that failure to comply with any of the regulations may result in the denial of the use of Special Collections & Archives materials and the withdrawal of my research privileges.
